

Do you believe...

disability advocacy is the CIVIL RIGHTS
issue of our time?

children with disabilities
should be educated
alongside their peers
without disabilities?

education is
THE KEY
that unlocks a child's potential?

Brought to you at no charge by Disability Rights Nebraska. Supported by the Civic Engagement Table.

INCLUSIVE EDUCATION: What does it look like?

High quality
instruction,
interventions,
and supports
are developed.

All students
experience
higher
expectations
and improved
test scores.

All students are educated in age-appropriate general education classrooms

Students with disabilities are presumed to be competent and
are participating
members of their school community.

All students develop relationships with their peers.

School cultures are collaborative and respectful.

All students are prepared for a natural transition into meaningful adult lives.

Inclusive school communities promote the value of diversity.

All students attend their neighborhood schools.
